PINCHOT MEN CHARGE VOTES BOUGHT

A CORRUPTION TALE UNFOLDED TO COMMITTEE

Defeated Candidate's Followers Tell "Slush Fund" Probers Vare and Pepper Forces Literally Purchased Tens of Thousands of Votes Through Paid "Workers."

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—A tale of alleged political corruption in the recent Pennsylvania senatorial campaign was unfolded to the senate's "slush fund" committee today by followers of Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who was snowed under in the three-cornered race.

The forces of Representative William S. Vare and Senator George Wharton Pepper were charged with literally buying tens of thousand of votes through the employment of workers. Conditions in Philadelphia, where the people were satisfied to "stew in the juices of political corruption," were rivalled by those in Pittsburgh, where paymasters for Vare and Pepper paid off workers for a week after the election and where the votes in whole wards can be purchased.

This was the picture drawn for the committee by T. Henry Walnut, Pinchot leader in Philadelphia, and by Frederick K. Beutel, the governor's leader in Pittsburgh

Committee of Millionaires

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—A carefully selected committee of millionairs raised the campaign fund of Senator George Wharton Pepper in Pennsylvania's recent senatorial primary, Robert Glendenning, state chairman of the Pepper finance committee, told the senate "slush fund" committee today.

The finance committee, Glendenning said, was composed only of men who "could give $1,000" without missing it. The committee, under this arrangement was composed of "thirty or forty" of the richest men in Pennsylvania.

"Everybody I thought was good for a $1,000 I put on the committee," Glendenning, a Philadelphia banker, said.

"How many did you get?" asked Senator Reed, democrat of Missouri.

"Thirty or forty, I had no limit in my mind."

"You thought the more people you put on the committee the more money you would get."

"Yes."

The committee included among other millionaires, Edward W. Bok, donor of the Box peace prize; Sidney T. Brock, banker; Charles J. Webb, woolen manufacturer; Charlton Yarnell, capitalist; J. Leonard Replogle, steel king; Edward B. Bobinette; E. W. Clark, banker; W. S. Ellis, capitalist, and John H. Browning, manufacturer.

Bok gave $2,000 to the fund, the witness added, but asked later that his name be taken off the committee. The committee functioned out of Philadelphia late in 1925, five months before the primary and several months before Pepper had even announced himself as a candidate for re-election. He raised "between $40,000 and $50,000" by December 27, 1925, when he left Philadelphia for a vacation trip in Europe.

Gasoline Tax Still Gaining

A further complication of gasoline tax receipts for May which Chief Bass of the state collection bureau has made up to Friday evening includes remittances from 164 licensed dealers, the total being $48,777, or an increase of $8,771 over the same firms paid for April. The ratio of gain is 18 per cent.

This percentage increase indicates that total receipts for May from about 470 licensed dealers will come to about $298,000. If that mark is reached, it will be $12,000 above the best previous month, which was August, 1925.

So far this calendar year, up to Friday evening, the bureau has taken in $913,663, while it has paid out $3,688 in refunds to 821 agricultural users, an average of $.50 on each claim.

Since the law went into effect April 1, 1925, the bureau has allowed and paid 2,031 refund claims aggregating $11,959. Its total revenue during that period was $5,114,477.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Alma Carter Schlessemann filed a petition in district court Saturday asking a divorce from Victor B. Schlessemann, charging extreme cruelty. They were married June 18, 1924 in Council Bluffs and have no children. A short time ago, Mrs. Schlessemann asked the court for a writ of habeas corpus to secure her husband's release from his parents, contending that he had tuberculosis and was being kept at their home without being given proper care. The writ was denied.

Nebraska Comet Captures 100 Yard Dash In National Collegiate Track Championships at Chicago—Race Staged Under Blazing Sun.

SOLDIERS FIELD, CHICAGO, June 16.—(By the Associated Press)—A blazing sun, tempered with a breeze blowing from the south, had sufficiently dried out the rain soaked track for the finals of the national collegiate track and field championships today to make record-breaking possible.

The meet, called the college olympics of America, drew the greatest array of collegiate champions ever assembled on one field, with the prospects that world marks would be shattered.

Early indications pointed to an attendance of 10,000 to 15,000. Roland Locke, the Nebraska sprinting marvel, was the magnet for the heavy attendance.

The University of Southern California, squad winner of the eastern intercollegiate championship, entered the finals a favorite to capture the major honors, with six runners qualified for the track events and a brilliant field brigade led by Bud Houser, weight ace.

Phin Guthrie, captain of the Ohio state university team, repeated his triumph over Leighton Dye of Southern California, in the 120-yard high hurdles, beating him to the tape by a yard in 14 8-10. Guthrie previously defeated the coast star in the Drake relays.

Spikes Dig Too Deeply.

In a thrilling race, Locke captured the 100 yard dash from Hester of Michigan, beating the Wolverine at the tape by a scant inch in 09 9-10, three-tenths of a second slower than the world's record. Locke and Hester raced it out from the start, the Wolverine giving him a desperate battle. Locke's spikes cut too deeply into the soft track to enable him to crack the record.

Another thriller was the one mile run, in which Judge of Notre Dame, coming from behind in the last fifty yards, defeated a field of nineteen runners. His time was 4:22 5-10. Gillett of Montana, was second and Wills of Bates, who set the early pace, faltered in the finish, pulling third.

The Summaries.

The summaries:

120 yard high hurdles: Won by Guthrie, Ohio State; Dye, Southern California, second; Werner, Illinois, third; Reynolds, Southern California, fourth; Duren, Tulane, fifth; Baskin, Alabama poly, sixth. Time 14 8-10.

100 yard dash: Won by Locke, Nebraska; Hester, Michigan, second; Sharkey, Miami, third; Alderman, Michigan State, fourth; Clarke, Washington, fifth; Schultz, California, Tech. Time 9 9-10.

Hammer throw: Won by Hawkins, Michigan (148 feet 1-4 inch); Linn, Pittsburgh, second, (137 feet 1-2 inch); Nelson, Iowa, third, (134 feet 5 inches); Williams Iowa fourth, (130 feet 5 inches); Marquis, Iowa, fifth (129 feet 2 inches); Treasler, Wisconsin, sixth (127 feet 2 inches).

One mile run: Won by Judge, Notre Dame; Gillet, Montana, second; Wills, Bates, third; Little, Purdue, fourth; Conger, Iowa State, fifth; Rue Illinois, sixth. Time 4:22 5-10.

MAKING NEW HEAT RECORD

Mercury Equals Friday's High Of 97 Degrees Above At 12:30 Saturday Noon; Relief Promised By Night.

THUNDER SHOWERS, NEBRASKA FORECAST

Temperatures Of Over 95 In Most Towns In State Friday; One Death In Omaha Attributed to the Heat.

NEARS 100 MARK.

After reaching 97 above Friday, the highest point yet this summer, the mercury was climbing steadily again Saturday forenoon and had reached 97 by 12:30, as compared to 94 at 12:30 Friday. The official weather forecast is for scattered thunder showers in Nebraska within the next few hours. A few were reported at various points last night, and more are expected this evening. It is thought that showers will break the heat wave which has extended over the entire Missouri Valley area.

A temperature of 101 was reported yesterday from Grand Island, and Hartington, while it was 100 at Hastings, Oakdale, O'Neill, Red Cloud, and Sioux City, and 99 at Culbertson and Tekamah. Good rains in the northern part of the state on the O'Neill line of the Burlington and north of Oakland were reported Friday night.

Banker Is Heat Victim.

OMAHA, June 12.—(AP)—One death, attributed indirectly to the heat, two prostrations occurred in Omaha Friday as the mercury soared to a new high June 11 record, 98.

Andrew Tomick, 57, a banker, fell dead in the afternoon while sitting in a chair in his rooms. His death was attributed to heart trouble, aggravated by the excessive heat. Rev. J. B. Cherry, 69, retired minister, was overcome by the heat on a downtown street and Joe Krimas, 40, a laborer, was overcome while working in the bottom of a sewer trench.

The high temperatures were general over all parts of Nebraska.

RANCHER TRIES FOR CONGRESS

Erbrache Demo Candidate In Sixth District Against Osborne.

Edgar Ferneau Pulls Out Of Race For State Senator.

George W. Erbrache, a ranchman living near Birdwood, is a democratic candidate for congress in the Sixth district, against T. C. Osborne of Bayard. His personal application, with the receipt for his filing fee paid in Lincoln county, reached the secretary of state's office Saturday.

Edgar L. Ferneau of Auburn, who lives along the Iowa border, has concluded since the primary election in that state last Monday that he does not care to run for state senator on the republican ticket this year. He had sent his filing papers some time ago to Secretary of State Pool, but now he writes asking to have his name withdrawn as a senatorial candidate in the first district.

This leaves Robert Nibbe of Tecumseh in the republican primary in that district.

Max W. Junkin of Smithfield, a member of the family of George C. Junkin of the same place, who was once secretaary of state for Nebraska and later served in the constitutional convention of 1920, filed Saturday for a seat in the lower branch of the legislature, from the 86th district. A voter's petition in his behalf was also sent.

Former State Senator Albert H. Miller of Kennard, republican has entered himself for another term in the 8th district.

INDICTMENT FOR WARD BURGESS

Former Omaha Merchant Charged With Using Mails To Defraud.

Lincoln Men Said To Have Lost Million Dollars In Deal.

OMAHA, June 12.—(AP)—Ward M. Burgess, former head of the now defunct M. E. Smith company, Omaha wholesale drygoods firm, and of the defunct Burgess-Nash department store, together with three others, was indicted by a federal grand jury here today on charges of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud in their promotion o fthese concerns.

The others indicted are:

John F. Dailey, Cleveland, O., former vice president and general manager of the Burgess-Nash store and director in the M. E. Smith company; F. Ahlford, Chicago, accountant for Arthur Young and company, and Morey V. Porter, former auditor of the companies, and now connected with a shirt factory in the M. E. Smith building.

The indictments came as a climax to an investigation that has been under way by Sylvester Rush, special assistant to the attorney general of the United States and James S. Egan, federal accountant, who formerly resided here. The probe has been in progress for more than a year.

More than $10,000,000 was lost by investors in the crash of the two concerns and by officials. A loss upwards of $1,000,000 was said to have been suffered by George, Frank and Mark Woods of Lincoln, who were interested in both concerns. The Nash estate also is credited with having lost a million dollars.

"Dr." Garess Had Sought Job In State Laboratory

Before "Dr." N. Z. Garess, the "woman bridegroom," was arrested a few days ago, she called on Chief W. H. Wilson of the state health bureau at the capitol and asked for a position in the bacteriological laboratory. She had called him up the day before to inquire if there might be a place open.

The first person she met in the office was vital statistics Registrar Hattie Summers, who had no trouble in identifying her as a woman, notwithstanding her masculine attire. The "doctor" was told where to find Chief Wilson, but as he happened to be out o fthe office she went to an adjoining room and inquired of two stenographers who he was. The typists both sized up the visitor as of their own sex.

A little later, Chief Wilson returned. Dr. Wilson noticed a peculiarity of "Dr. Garess" voice and manner, but did not "tumble" to the fact that she was not a man. Nothing came of her visit, as there was no job available.

She represented herself, Dr. Wilson said, as having studied medicine in an eastern state. She talked with him about the chance of getting a reciprocity certificate, without examination, to practice in Nebraska, but produced no papers showing that she was legally qualified.

URGES CHURCH TO TAKE LEAD IN EDUCATION

Paul H. Bowman Pleads For Constructive Policy At Annual Meetings Here Of Church of The Brethren.

FIVE THOUSAND ARE ATTENDING SESSIONS

Standing Committee Recommends Next Year's Annual Conference Be Held In Pennsylvania; Sunday and Monday Banner Days.

Three hundred arriving at the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren from Pennsylvania Saturday morning completes the large delegations expected and makes the grand total of all on the fairgrounds, where the conference is being held, easily over five thousand. A few more are expected Saturday afternoon and some may come as late as Sunday, but as these come in some are leaving, a small early delegation leaving this morning, for Pennsylvania.

The main talk of Saturday morning was delivered by Paul H. Bowman of Bridgewater, Va., on "A Constructive Educational Policy for Our Church." He declared that there were four things absolutely essential which must be employed in building a constructive educational policy. The church must recognize that education is one of the most constructive forces in the life and race of Christian civilization. It must develop and conserve a proper conception of education. It must properly evaluate constructive standards of education and it must be realized that the Brethren is only a small denomination and that there is a limit to its resources, and that it looks like that limit is now being approached.

"The Church of the Brethren," Mr. Bowman said in conclusion, "is particularly well fitted to make a real contribution toward Christian education. Let us develop a policy which will make it possible for us to play our part in this great field of human endeavor."

J. S. Noffsinger connected with the Carnegie Institute at Washington, D. C., gave an interesting address at 7 o'clock Saturday morning on "Why Students Leave College." This third talk on "The Teachings of Jesus" was given by E. M. Studebaker, who stressed faith and determination as necessary in living a clean, Christian life. Worships were led by H. K. Ober

FREIGHT RATE HEARING NEXT

State Railway Commission To Attempt To Clear Up Confusing Condition Existing For Several Years.

PROBABLY INCREASE IN SOME TARIFFS

Jobbing Towns Now Pay Higher Rates Than Those Enjoyed By Other Communities Within the State.

An equalization of class freight rates within the state of Nebraska will be undertaken by the state railway commission to clear up the confused situation which has existed for several years whereby the jobbing cities of the state are placed at a disadvantage compared with other shipping points, due to their rates having been raised by order of the interstate commerce commission, while local rates were left on the old basis fixed by the state commission in its order No. 19, as subsequently modified.

The Nebraska commission, in response to frequent complaints of the existing cintqualities, the last of which was filed by the Nebraska City chamber of commerce in regard to competitive rates from Falls City, will hold a hearing at its office in the capital, June 28, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

It is the announced purpose of this inquiry to end the system of dual rates now in force in Nebraska, due to the conflicting provisions of orders emanating from the federal and state commissions.

"A reasonable and non-prejudicial schedule of class rates should be established to apply between all stations in the state," says the preliminary resolution adopted by the state body

13 Jobbing Cities Interested.

The cities designated as jobbing points, now governed by the interstate commerce commission's rates, are Lincoln, Omaha, Fremont, Beatrice, Columbus, Hastings Grand Island, Kearney, Nebraska City, Fairbury, Plattsmouth, St. Paul and Norfolk.

Under the original order No. 19 promulgated by the state commission in 1913, the jobbing centers were given somewhat lower rates than those applying from other points in the state. During the World war period, as a result of complaints filed by jobbers in Kansas City, St. Joseph, Council Bluffs, Sioux City and other Missouri river cities outside Nebraska alleging that rates within this state were

Grant Request To Remove Track On New Hampshire

Granting the request of the Lincoln Traction company which was unopposed at the hearing, the Nebraska state railway commission Saturday ordered that permission be given the traction company to remove one of its car tracks on New Hampshire street between Tenth and Fourteenth.

The city will pave New Hampshire street soon, it was said at the hearing and the traction company will, under the commission's order, replace the present double track with a single one. Figures produced at the hearing showed during 1925 the car lines using New Hampshire street at that point had an income of only $610.66 more than the expense, and this does not include taxes, depreciation, or interest on equipment.

Highway Paving Contract Is Let

Bids were received Friday for paving a mile of highway between Bethany and Havelock, on the new U. S. No. 3 Route (D. I. D.), which will make that a continuously paved and graveled road between Lincoln and Omaha. The contract was awarded to the Abel Construction Co., at $2.51 per square yard a total of $61 446. Bituminous concrete is the material to be used.

The Allied Contractors filed a bid of $2.56 and the Cochrane Construction Co. offered to do the work for $2.59.

The state and the federal government will each pay one-third of the cost, the remainder being paid by adjacent property owners, the city of Havelock, and Lancaster county.

ASKS BACKING OF SUBSTITUTE AID MEASURE

Wisconsin Senator Urges Upper House To Abandon Equalization Fee Principles of McNary Bill In Favor of His $150,000,000 Revolving Fund Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—Breaking away from the farm bloc, Senator Lenroot, republican of Wisconsin, today urged the senate to support his substitute farm relief bill and to abandon the equalization fee principles of the Dawes-McNary-Haugen measure.

The substitute bill would provide a $150,000,000 revolving fund, repayable to the treasury, to set farm co-operative marketing machinery in operation to control and market surpluses.

Lenroot declared the equalization fee principle of the farm block bill was "unconstitutional."

Terms Bill "Gold Brick."

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The McNary farm relief bill, embodying the corn belt plan for an equalization fee to stabilize prices, was described in the senate today by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin as the greatest "gold brick" ever offered American farmers.

"If this bill is passed and is sustained by the courts," he said "the farmers, the very people the legislation is designed to help, would be the first to repudiate it."

He challenged the constitutionality of the equalization fee principle, declaring that if this provision is constitutional, "the last vestige of state's rights has been taken away."

"If we can tax one man, engaged in private industry, to pay the losses of another man likewise engaged in private industry," the Wisconsin senator contended, "we can fix the price of every farm product and we can fix wages in industry and the price of every manufactured article, which is wholly beyond the power of congress."

He was interrupted frequently by Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, author of the bill, who disputed Senator Lenroot's constitutional interpretation and declared the same principle had been applied by congress in the passage of the Esch-Cummins transportation act.

FITZSIMMONS IS DEMOLAY'S HEAD

Lincoln Man Elected Master Counsellor Of Order In State.

NORFOLK, Neb., June 12.—(AP)—George Fitzsimmons of Lincoln, Neb., was elected master counsellor of the Order of DeMolay of Nebraska at the closing session of the annual conclave here today. Nebraska City was awarded the next conclave.

After a lively discussion Friday on the proposed establishment of a state magazine, the proposition was continued until Saturday.

The resolution over which the contest started proposed "that the DeMolay News, a monthly magazine launched by the Lincoln chapter June 1, in the interest of DeMolay chapters in Nebraska, shall henceforth be operated as an official Nebraska DeMolay publication, in accordance with the Lincoln chapter's offer to transfer the DeMolay News to the state chapter.

"The DeMolay News shall be maintained under the direct supervision of Tinley L. Combs, state deputy, and a per capita tax of 25 cents shall be assessed each member of the state chapter for the maintenance of the publication."

The smaller towns feel that finances will not permit them to support the magazine, but leaders predict the resolution will be adopted.

State couriers elected were Allen Seubrigen, Norfolk; Bob Hemer, Charles Speedie and George Fitzsimmons, Lincoln, and Hellis Kepler, Hastings.

Cause of Death Klippert Baby Still Unknown

ANTI-FASCISTS PROVOKE RIOT

GENEVA, June 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fifty fascists and anti-fascists were receiving treatment from physicians today for contusions received during a fight at mass meeting held by socialists last night to protest against the killing in Italy of the anti-fascist, Deputy Matteotti. The trouble started when a communist orator shouted: "Mussolini is an assassin."

Chairs, canes and umbrellas were utilized as weapons in the ensuing combat. Women auditors fled, shrieking from the hall when a communist leader began firing a revolver in the air. A large number of persons were arrested, including some of the Italian delegates to the International Labor conference.

Where Religion Thrives.

Mr. Brookhart's Ideas.

A Petrified Brain.

By Arthur Brisbane.

Cardinal Chirost, first French prince of the Roman Catholic church that ever visited the United States, is on his way to the great Eucharistic gathering in Chicago. He can assure his friends in Europe that religions prosper in a country where government and church are kept apart, not allowed to interfere with each other.

When he landed in New York the cardinal found a great state with a Roman Catholic for governor, nad that governor the most conspicuous candidate for the democratic presidential nomination in 1928; another Roman Catholic mayor, another at the head of the public school system. As he drove to his hotel, traffic was regulated and turned aside to clear the way, by Roman Catholic policemen on foot and on motorcycles. A fair field and no favor is all that any religion needs.

Mr. Brookhart, senator from Iowa, thinks it would be wise to limit the earning of capital to 5 per cent and put control of government "entirely in the hands of labor."

Ideas are one thing, carrying them out is another.

Not long ago capital thought it would be a good idea to limit labor's earnings to $1 a day. A president of the United States once complained at a public banquet that you couldn't hire a good workman for less than $100 a year and his board.

Labor is not limited to $1 a day, however. Capital won't be limited to 5 per cent, and labor will not control government unless it has more brains than the governing class. If it had more brains than the governing class, it would be governing now.

Those that govern, from big financiers to little politicians, put in office by big financiers, were not born in power; they got there. These are sad facts.

A petrified human brain is found near Moscow, exciting scientists. This brain, undoubtedly genuine, mercifully petrified that modern men might study ancient men, was discovered in perfect condition, with a fragment of another brain near it, both beside the tooth of a mammoth in a bed of white clay.

What did that brain thinkk, as it looked at the mammoth and other great beasts, sharped its little flints, hurled them through the air, and ran for its life?

With what stange superstitions did the ancient brain explain lightning, thunder, and the wind howling in the cave?

It certainly was not much more superstitious than our average modern brain, of which you may truly quote Voltaire's words in his chapter on Mahammed in the encyclopaedia: "It is always wise to tell the vulgar the things that are most unbelievable."

(Copright, 1926.)

ATTORNEYS MIX IN LEASE CASE

Flansburg Serves Notice Of Limitation Of Insults He Will Take.

Rogers Admits Not Familiar With Details Of Auditorium Contract.

"There's a limit to the insults I'll take from you—"

That's what Leonard A. Flansburg, former justice of the supreme court, and one of the attorneys for O'Shea-Rogers Co., said in a rather excited voice to Clinton J. Campbell, one of the attorneys for the American Legion in the case now on trial in the equity division of District court, in which the local legion post and others are seeking to have annulled the 99-year lease granted on the auditorium property by Lancaster county to O'Shea-Rogers.

The notice of limitation was served by Mr. Flansburg just before the adjournment of court Friday afternon and Judge J. H. Broady, before whom the case is being tried, also informed the attorneys, after he had, by vigorous pounding on his desk, succeeded in seating them, that there was also a limit to what the court would stand, advising them in very forceful manner to keep their personal matters outside the court room.

While the temperature without was highly charged with American thermal units, it had nothing on that within the temple of justice at rather frequent intervals during the the entire afternoon. R. H. Rogers of O'Shea-Rogers Co., was on the witness stand and was being examined by Mr. Campbell as to the conection of Mr. Rogers' firm with the auditorium lease and the negotiations leading up to its execution. Mr. Flansburg objected at times to the line of questioning being pursued, claiming that the matters inquired about were immaterial and having nothing to do with the issues in the case.

Says Shurtleff Engineered Deal

In giving his reasons for asking the questions Mr. Campbell stated that it was his intention to show that the entire matter was conceived and engineered by Bruce Shurtleff, who got O'Shea-Rogers into the deal because their standing was higher than his and for this reason his name was kept out of the deal. They were merely used as pawns or checkers in a game in which a fraud was perpetrated upon the county, it was declared by the attorney.

The attention of the witness was called by the attorney to a contract which had been entered into on July 1, seven days before the signing of the lease with the county. This contract was between O'Shea-Rogers, Shurtleff and Charles Olson. It provided the terms upon which the property was to be taken and used by the parties, the several liabilities and other details. Among other things is a provision for sharing the expense of obtaining the lease, attorney fees and cost of litigation. Mr. Campbell asked Mr. Rogers if any money had ever been paid in under this section of the contract and the question was objected to.

Mr. Campbell stated that he wanted to know if any of this money had been paid in and if any had been so paid he wanted to know where it went. A hot colloquy between the attorneys took place, Mr. Campbell referring to the proposed fund as a "jackpot," the use of which he proposed to probe. He also talked of fraud upon the county and it was at the end of this that Mr. Flansburg withdrew his objection to the question and said that there was a limit to he insults which he would take. Mr. Rogers said that no money had been paid into the fund.

Early in his examination of Mr. Rogers, Mr. Campbell stated that his line of questioning was for the purpose of showing that the witness knew little of the transaction in controversy, which he claimed was engineered by Mr. Shurtleff. He asked the witness when the matter of submitting a bid on the auditorium property first occurred to or was mentioned to him and the witness was not certainn, but thought that it was sixty or ninety days before the bid was submitted. It was first suggested by Mr. O'Shea and the latter carried on all of the negotiations. For this reason, the witness stated, he was not familiar with the details.

Connections In Case.

The witness stated tha the did not remember of talking of the matter with Mr. Shurtleff prior to the time the bid was submitted or before the lease was signed. He and Mr. O'Shea had talked to Mr. Shurtleff, but the witness stated that he did not remember what was said. He did not know that Mr. Shurtleff had previously filed a bid and only learned of it from what he had heard in the court room. He first heard of Mr. Olson's connection about the time the lease bid was submitted, the witness said, being informed by Mr. O'Shea. They thought it a pretty big proposition for them to handle. Mr. Rogers said, and it was on this account that he was taken into the deal.

The witness testified that he did not know whether he had read the lease before it was filed and in talking over the terms with Mr. O'Shea he did not discuss the interests of Shurtleff and Olson or their interests in it. He new on June 16 that O'Shea and Rogers were the only ones whose names appeared on the proposed lease, but he also knew that Shurtleff had an interest in it.

It was stated by the witness that there was no contract with Shurtleff before the one to which Olsen was a party and which was signed on July 1. He was at this point shown a copy of a proposed contract with Mr. Shurtleff, which he said had been discussed by himself and Mr. O'Shea. It was not signed and Mr. Flansburg stated that he, himself, had turned it over to Mr. Campbell.

The witness was here asked if Peterson & Devoe and Flansburg had been attorneys for himself and partner in any other matter than the case now on trials and stated that they had had very little use for attorneys. In personal matters he had employed another firm and thought that Mr. O'Shea had employed still another, one mentioned by Mr. Campbell. Peterson & Devoe and Flansburg had not been employed by the firm to his knowledge.

Mr. Rogers was still on the stand, undergoing examination as to his knowledge of the contracts and relations with Olson and Shurtleff when court adjourned until Monday morning.

Cameron Questioned

At the beginning of the afternoon session County Commissioner Cameron was still on the stand upnder redirect examination by Mr. Campbell. He stated that as an individual he would have made the same deal for the auditorium property that he did as an official. He was influenced, he said, by the advice of the county attorney in making the lease in the absence of a better offer and he first knew that the property was to be disposed of on July 7 on that same day.

Mr. Cameron said the commissioners had never before asked for offers on a 99-year contract. Mr Shurtleff had talked of such a lease with Mr. Hensley and the latter had told him to submit his offer in writing. It was during the debate over the submission of this that Mr. Campbell said that he wanted to show that the 99-year lease proposition was a Shurtleff program all the way through.

The witness was asked if in his seven years as commissioner he had ever before known County Attorney Matson to exclusively handle a case for the county before and answered in the negative.

Here Mr. Devoe called attention of the court to what he referred to as unfortunate animus in the case. He said that Mr. Matson and Mr. Campbell had had ligitation and on that account feeling was manifested. Mr. Campbell said that the question he had just asked was for foundation purposes and that he proposed to go to the bottom of the matter and show that Mr. Matson's action in this was extraordinary.

Governor Again Refuses Writ For Guthrie's Return

Finding that F. W. Guthrie of Fairbury had committed no criminal act to defraud a mercantile firm at Lenora, Kas., from whom one of his truck buyers purchased eggs and other produce in April and May, Governor McMullen refused Friday afternoon to issue a writ of extradition for his return to that state. It was the second time in two weeks that the governor had turned down a request by Kansas authorities to have Guthrie sent thither on the charges of issuing no-fund checks and obtaining property by means of them. His truck driver, C. G. Russell, was also named in the second application.

Directs Verdict For Defendants In Liquor Case

Verdicts of not guilty were entered late Friday afternoon upon the order of Federal Judge T. C. Munger in the liquor conspiracy case against Harold Knox and John Chidester. The government had just completed its case.

Judge Munger found that there was not sufficient cause to sustain the charge of conspiracy.

"I should say in justice to Mr. Dibble," Judge Munger explained, "that this was not his case, but was one that was hanging over when he took office as assistant U. S. district attorney."

THREE KILLED AS CLOUDBURST HITS ILLINOIS

Scores Of Persons Injured And Considerable Property Loss In Storm.

CHICAGO, June 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Chicago and northern Illinois today counted the loss of three lives, injury of scores of persons and several hundred thousand dollars in property damage done by a severe electrical storm last night.

Near Freeport and Rockford, Ill., three deaths were reported as the result of the storm and a cloudburst which swelled the waters of the Pecatonic river and submerged the lowlands. The dead: Frank J. Killums of Calona, William Cooney of Rockford, and Ephriam Drivelbess of Freeport.

Riding on a bombardment of electrical violence, the storm struck Chicago just as the business district was being emptied of workers at 5 o'clock. Amid a din of thunder, the lightning levelled chimneys, struck a trolley car, injuring twenty persons, started half a hundred fires and did miscellaneous damages to apartments and business property.

Basements Flooded.

Basements were flooded by the heavy rain and streets became rivers, with automobiles, buses and streetcars marooned for the half hour duration of the storm.

A Catholic high school was struck by lightning and a cornice was torn off in the midst of graduation exercises at which Cardinal Mundelein was conferring diplomas. The bolt laid unconscious two policemen directing traffic in front of the institution.

In Evanston a lightning blast politely rang a door bell before entering a house to tear the glass out of a mirror.

Two elevated cars collided in the midst of the storm, injuring four. The streetcar struck by lightning was carrying suburban factory workers. The bolt set fire to the car. Some of these hurt were trampled.

Three were struck by lightning near Hawkeye, Ia., and one at Decatur, Alton, Ill., reported property damage of $100,000.

The rainfall varied from two to four inches, more than two inches falling here. Hail accompanied the rain in some section.

Heavy Loss in West.

RAWLINGS, Wyo., June 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A seven foot wall of water released when the Cow Creek dam, thirty miles southeast of here, broke Thursday and inundated one ranch in the Platte valley, swept away buildings from several others and resulted in a heavy loss of livestock, reports reaching here Friday stated.

Bridges were washed out and highways damaged within an area of five miles. No one is known to have been killed.

Recent melting of snow in the mountains is believed to have taxed the dam beyond capacity.

Wesley Barry and Julia Wood to Be Married Monday

NEWARK, N. J., June 12.—(AP)—A plump chestnut haired young woman and a freckled faced boy last night met reporters running down the story that Wesley Barry, 18-year-old movie star, had obtained a marriage license in this city.

"It was a case of love at first sight," said the young woman. Julia Wood, 23-year-old vaudeville actress of this city. She is somewhat the taller and clung to his arm as she spoke.

"We met two and a half years ago in Terre Haute," she continued. "We have been together as often as Wesley could get away from his work and we'll be married here in my home on Monday night."

"It's my first venture," she confided blushingly.

"And mine, too," said Wesley. He dug his toe into the carpet and twisted his brilliant sports sweater around nervous fingers.

"But we're going to make a go of it," he asserted. "We are going to Hollywood on Monday night, I must go back to work. I've bought a bungalow and we're going to housekeeping."

CROP PROSPECTS UNUSUALLY POOR

Statistician Says Outlook For Nebraska Darkest In Recent Years. Continued Drouth Seriously Injures Small Grain and Hay Crops.

(Associated Press)

Crop prospects in Nebraska on June 1 were the poorest in recent years, A. E. Anderson, federal crop statistician, declared in his June report made public here today.

Continued drouth has injured all small grain and hay crops and even some of the corn is needing moisture badly, said Mr. Anderson. Conditions, however, are somewhat better in the extreme western and eastern sections of the state.

The statistician gave the condition of winter wheat as 64 percent, indicating a production of 35,139,000 bushels as compared to 31,661,000 bushels last year. The increase is accounted for in the additional acreage of grain this year.

"However," said Mr. Anderson, "there has been a marked deterioration since June 1, the date to which this report relates, over the greater part of the state. Continued severe drouth with no sub-soil moisture has caused the wheat to head short and to fire.

"Part of the winter wheat crop would still improve if moisture was received. However, it appears that some of the crop will be a failure. Two weeks ago, some of the farmers in south central Nebraska were turning under their wheat and planting corn. Since then, some of the wheat is being pastured and some cut for hay, as the condition did not justify leaving it for harvest."

Rye is rated at 72 percent, with a forecast of 2,604,000 bushels as compared to 2,522,000 bushels last year. The condition of barley 72 percent, this crop having been injured by dry weather but most of the crop can recover if sufficient rain is received.

Oats are raised at 71 percent. Most of the crop has been injured somewhat. The bulk of the crop would improve if moisture is received soon. In some sections oats have fired considerably.

The condition of spring wheat is 86 percent. The bulk of the spring wheat is grown in the extreme western part of the state and conditions are favorable there which accounts for the high percentage rate.

Corn is Good

Most of the corn is in good condition, but is needing moisture. Fields are in a good state of cultivation, and the stands are generally satisfactory. I tappears the acreage will be as large as last year.

May crops are short. The condition of wild hay is 71 percent; all tame hay 71 percent; timothy 67 percent; clover 73 percent; alfalfa 71 percent. The first crop of alfalfa ranged from fair to poor. The present condition of the second crop is very unfavorable due to drouth. The wild hay crop is certain to be light but could still be improved by rain.

The condition of pasture is 70 percent. Pastures are very dry and those carrying the average number of livestock are very short. Those that were pastured lightly have sufficient grass. Sand hill pastures are good.

Fruit crops are slightly below expectations. The condition of apples is 68 percent; peaches 62 percent; and pears 60 percent. The set of fruit is not as heavy as expected. Moisture is needed badly. The cherry crop is fairly good, but the drouth is preventing full development.

The condition of winter wheat for the United States is 76.5 percent, and the forecast is 543,300,000 bushels against 398,486,000 bushels last year.

The condition of rye is 73.4 percent, and the forecast, 41,131,000 bushels against 48,096,000 bushels last year. The condition of spring wheat is 78.5 percent; oats 78.8 percent; barley 81 percent; tame hay 76 percent; wild hay 66.7 percent; and pasture 77 percent.

A NATIONAL STENCH.

That is an amazing and sordid story of political rottenness which is coming out of Washington as a result of the senatorial investigation of expenditures in the republican primary battle in Pennsylvania.

It has become a national stench without a parallel in the history of American politics.

When Newberry loosened the flaps of a fat purse in the campaign against Henry Ford in 1920, the country was scandalized by the reports of excessive expenditures. An investigation followed, revealing that Newberry had spent more than $100,000 to secure a seat in the highest legislative body in the world. He was seated through pressure from the administration but it cost the republican party control of congress and thereafter "Newberryism" came to signify a definite influence in politics.

It was the excessive use of funds by the political friends and associates of General Leonard Wood which ultimately produced the defeat of that presidential aspirant. When it was brought out that more than a million dollars had been spent in the primary campaigns in the various states where Wood, Hiram Johnson and ex-Governor Frank Lowden contested, Wood ceased to be a factor in the race. But it was never charged this money had been improperly used. It went for advertising and for postage and to finance the Wood campaign tour. The same investigation killed Lowden's candidacy through the revelation that some of his over-zealous friends had been too prodigal in the expenditure of money.

Pennsylvania's primary was more shameful and scandalous than anything which has gone before. The testimony which has been placed before the senatorial committee has tended to show the Vare and Pepper organizations contested with each other in the hiring of "watchers." The selection of these campaign workers was placed on the basis of large families of voters. It was in effect, the committee was told, a "purchase of votes." But overlooking this feature what is to be said of the outpouring of hundreds of thousands of dollars by a reformer, a "high-toned" senator and a practical ward politician of Philadelphia to purchase a seat in the United States senate.

The country has been told of the improper and undue use of money in political campaigns in recent years. The outcry was raised in 1920 and then again in 1924. It has been or should have been fully cognizant of the fact that the interests which contribute these huge sums are not doing it for their pleasure or through any sense of philanthrophy The huge war chests of 1920 and 1924 were raised because certain interests thought it would be to their selfish advantage.

Pennsylvania, then, very forcefully demonstrates that the primary system, which was substituted for the old convention plan, has only aggravated the old evils. In the light of what has taken place in the second largest state in the union, in point of population and wealth, who shall say that the primary has curbed the baneful influences of organization and corporate wealth?

What a stench it is!

What shall be said of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the "strong man" of the Coolidge administration? Certainly public confidence has been lessened by the revelations of the last two days. Mr Mellon has been directly linked with this Pepper campaign, which according to the testimony given, spent more than a million dollars in a senatorial and a gubernatorial campaign. The secretary of the treasury, a member of the president's cabinet, is reflected in the light of a ward politician, thoroughly skilled and versed in the gang methods of politics. The picture takes all of the gloss off Mr. Mellon's record. It stamps him as a practical, capable and efficient man but nevertheless a menacing and sinister influence in American politics.

The odium of the Pennsylvania expose extends to this administration.

Mr. Coolidge was interested in it. He was a figure in the fight. In the same measure that Mr. Mellon loses public confidence and esteem, the administration also suffers. The slumbering conscience of the American people will not forever tolerate the conditions which have been bared in this filthy Pennsylvania primary.

NEBRASKA'S NEW INDUSTRY.

It takes approximately 10 tons of cheese to feed the inmates and employes at 17 penal and charitable institutions of Nebraska each year. Heretofore, the state has been sending $4,000 a year or more to factories in New York, Wisconsin and other states for this commodity. Now the board of control has arranged to buy cheese manufactured in Nebraska and the money will stay here.

It is hardly a year since the first cheesemaking plant in this state began operations at Scottsbluff. The industry has proven successful in that short time that several additional factories have been established in the North Platte valley, and steps are being taken to start others in central and southern Nebraska. Most of these are under co-operative ownership of farmers and milk producers.

Here is an instance where farmers have helped themselves very substantially by taking advantage of natural conditions favorable to the creation of a new market for their products close at hand. They have done this without any aid or "relief" from governmental sources. They owe nothing of their success to politicians who are blatantly proclaiming their desire to assist agriculture. What they have accomplished is due entirely to their own enterprise and management.

It seems strange that cheese manufacture should not have been taken up long before this in a state where buttermaking has been practiced for a half a century and constitutes one of the foremost industries. It was inevitable, however, that the expansion of dairying activities which has been taking place in late years should sooner or later focus attention upon the production of cheese, along with butter.

In the North Platte valley there is a happy combination of circumstances which favors the manufacture of cheese. The alfalfa grown on irrigated lands there and the pulp from beets after they have been put through the sugarmaking process are the finest feed on earth for cows, and the latter is very cheap food. Farmers, therefore, find it profitable to keep large dairy herds.

All of these things, however, would avail little if a market were lacking for the output. But the state of Nebraska, with its million and a half people, and the neighboring states with several millions more provide a consuming demand that readily absorbs all the cheese the factories can turn out. Inhabitants of the Missouri valley region will be glad to buy and use the Nebraska product on their tables if its quality equals that of what they have been accustomed to; and as to quality there is no reason on earth why Nebraska cheese should not match the best.

The great agricultural west is finding its best development in the operation of industries natural to the region. It produces vast quantities of meats and other animal products; flour, cornmeal, feeds, cereals, macaroni and baked goods; ice cream, candies, confections and bottled drinks, canned fruits and vegetables; butter, eggs, live and dressed poultry; sugar from beets; and many other foodstuffs, in addition to its enormous crops of grain, potatoes, hay, apples, etc., which are sold in the raw. There are enough of these articles to supply the state's own needs and have a large surplus left over to sell elsewhere.

Cheese has now taken its place as one of the great staple products of Nebraska. It will become an increasingly important item in the list as one year succeeds another. And it will play a large part in solving the problems of the farmer, without political or governmental interference.

CHANGING SOCIAL IDEAS.

General Ludendorff may have been a great military disciplinarian; he got results with the German army at least. But the spirit which carried him far on the battlefield was not so good at home. Frau Ludendorff has sued the former head of the ex-Kaiser's forces for divorce. She charges him with being neglectful and abusive.

Once again the Ludendorff strategy that a good defense is a smashing counter-attack comes into evidence for the general has charged that his home life was ruined by his wife's incessant cigarette smoking.

The incident is interesting only because it reveals the changing social conditions on the continent. Germany, France, Great Britain—all of Europe is being affected profoundly by it. Old conceptions of home life, old traditions and conventions are falling in the advance of new. It is a transitory period, with the confusion and chaos which that implies. What will emerge from out of the new Europe, it is difficult to foretell. Certainly it will be a wide departure from the past.

A NEW WHITE HOUSE.

Mr. Coolidge's reluctance to spend public funds in repairing the White House has been brushed aside by experts who insist the work must not be delayed any longer.

As a result congress is being asked to appropriate $350,000 to put the building in condition and to provide an additional $25,000 for temporary quarters for the president while the work is being done.

The question might logically be asked if it would not be better to build a new White House. The present one has stood for many years and each year imposes an additional burden in properly maintaining it. As matters now stand it is one of the less pretentious and attractive of governmental buildings in Washington, and hardly in keeping with the traditions of the richest nation in the world. It would probably be sound economy to take the $350,000 to be used in remodelling the White House, and add enough to it to build a new one.

"We are busy," said the president of the National Pawnbrokers's association, "and that shows the whole country is prosperous."

Answers to Correspondents.

Early Treatment Extremely Advisable

Mrs. B.—If you do not know the women physicians in your city, ring up the County Medical Society and ask for a list.

Go to one of them and have a physical examination, for the blood appearing between your periods is not normal. You have some condition which may be trifling and easily remedied in the beginning, but, postponed, may mean a serious operation.

It Satisfies

"Dear Doctor:—I'm going to use my 200 words to tell you how grateful I am for your booklet on reducing. In about four weeks, I lost 16 pounds. My friends laugh at me and my calories, but I'm having the best laugh for I feel so much better in every way. I sleep peacefully and my food satisfies me, which it never did before. With gratitude. —N."

Thank you, N., especially for letting us know that your food satisfies you now, when it never did before! It has given me a point to write on that I haven't touched before, that I remember.

Those who are overweight and are still gaining, invariably never feel satisfied, and they think of food practically constantly, because the food habit has control. It is not a real hunger that possesses them, by any means, for they eat too much and too frequently to have a real hunger. There is a sense of lack-of-satisfaction, we may say, always present.

After being on a reduction diet for a few days, the stomach actually does become smaller (the inside one, I am referring to, although the external one—really the abdomen—also participates). Your food does satisfy and it really takes considerably less to satisfy than before; so new habits of eating less and not so frequently are formed. In reality it is easier to go without food when once you have made up your mind to diet, than it is ordinarily. Two other little points: Your better physical condition, as well as the fact that your intenstinal tract is no working overtime, account for your better state.

But N., I don't believe it is wise to reduce so rapidly as you have done—four pounds a week. Two pounds a week is enough, although for a short time it isn't harmful to reduce more rapidly and apparently your four weeks was a short time for you. However, over any length of time, a loss of over two pounds a week, means an extremely low diet. This would mean that the vital organs of the body, including the muscles and the nerves, would become disordered and would have to furnish some of their substance for energy and heat needs. The fat is the only thing that can do that safely.

Those who want our instructions on losing weight (or gaining it) may have our booklet on the subject by sending ten cents in stamps and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with request. Allow at least two weeks for its receipt.

Mrs. J.—A physician who could give you a personal examination would be the only one who could tell you what kind of appliance, if any, to wear for a fallen uterus. Your physician may advise an operation even though you are well along in life.

To allow an organ which is so completely prolapsed, to continue, has a large degree of danger in it, for the irritation may cause ulceration and afterwards cancer.

K.—We hav an article on the Dietary Treatment of Chronic Arthritis, which can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. Allow at least two weeks for its receipt.

My dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answrered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

WILL CELEBRATE MONDAY, JULY 5

Mayor Draws Up Resolution Restricting Sale of Fireworks to Four Days.

Because the Fourth of July comes on Sunday this year, Monday, July 5, has been designated as the day when Lincoln children and grown-ups may shoot off firecrackers, sky rockets and other kinds of fireworks. Lincoln merchants will be permitted to sell fireworks on four days, July 1, 2, 3 and 5. This announcement was made by Mayor Frank Zehrung Saturday morning. He has drawn up a resolution to that effect and will present it to the council Monday.

Extra police will be employed to see that there is no premature shooting of fireworks, and motorcycle officers will patrol the residential districts. ## Two Injured When Car Is Overturned

(Special to The Star.)

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 12.—Miss Emma Schulz, 23 of Shelby, and her brother, John, aged 8, were cut about the face when a light car in which they were riding with their brother Arthur, and sister, Esther, overturned in the Meridian highway near the Platte river bridge south of Columbus Friday. They were both cut about the face, Miss Schulz's wounds being of such extent as to require the services of a surgeon. The car turned over when it struck loose gravel while Arthur, who was driving, was leaning far out to one side to look at a tire. The young pepole were en route to Columbus to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Ernestine Nather, pioneer Columbus woman whose death occurred here earlier in the week.

W. S. CONKLING DEAD

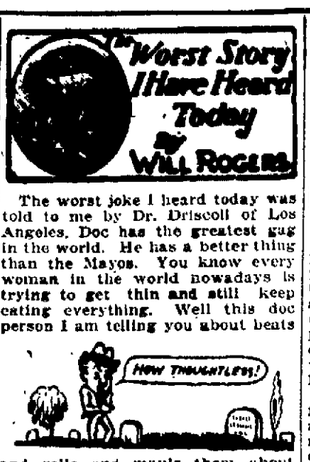
DES MOINES, June 12. — (AP) — Doctor Wilbur S. Conkling, Des Moines, surgeon general of national guard forces in Iowa, Minnesota, and Nebraska and one of Iowa's distinguished World war soldiers, died last night after an illness of nearly a year. He was 53 years old. He was a lieutenant colonel at the close of the World war. Surviving are the widow, two sons and a daughter.



The worst joke I heard today was told to me by Dr. Driscoll of Los Angeles. Doc has the greatest gag in the world. He has a better thing than the Mayos. and rolls and mauls them about some way and even if they have been living on potatoes and pastry, why doc will make them look stylish. He is working on my old friend, Charley Russell, the cowboy artist, and he has him so he can draw those cowboy cartoons with either hand or foot. The doc is comical with it. He will not only knead a few hunks of avoirdupois out of you, but he will hand you many a laugh.

"Nonsense, he only thinks he is ill," replied the disciple of Coue. Every time the actor stopped at the house and inquired, he would always repeat that there was nothing the matter with his friend. Finally at the end of the week, he come and asked, "Well, does he still think he is ill?"

"No sir," was the maid's reply. "Now he thinks he is dead, so we buried him."

Chapter VIII.

Stein's dancing academy was pulsating with life when Joselyn paid a dollar entrance fee, passed through a lobby turnstile and into an elevator. Somewhere above she emerged into a vast expanse of polished floor under a low ceiling draped with blue chiffon through which obscure lights filtered softly.

A rythmic, brassy blare of jazz filled the faintly perfumed air above a hissing undercurrent of many sliding feet. Beyond the dancers, almost a block away, was a low platform, carpeted and furnished with tables and chairs discreetly shadowed by potted palms. Sundry couples were at the tables dallying with food and drinks from a remote fountain.

Joselyn was conscious of a swirl of the senses, a tremulous excitement — was prepared with nervous determination for the business of earning a lot of money, quickly. Milton Stein, the traveling salesman, had mentioned the incredible sum of $60 or $70 a week. Fortunately, she had preserved his card.

Edging the dance floor was a crowded group of watchers, mostly men. Near a booth sat what seemed to be a waiting line of young and surprisingly pretty girls in sleeveless dresses. Over their heads in blue lights was the single worded sign "Chaperones." A similar sign, though smaller, over the booth read "Tickets For the Chaperons."

At the booth Joselyn inquired for Mr. Herman Stein, the proprietor and was directed to a cubby-hole office. Two men, both middle aged, were within; one was broad-shouldered and striking in dinner clothes with his iron-gray hair brushed back from a slightly florid brow. The other in a business suit was squat with a heavy nose and tired eyes. The latter, it developed, was Herman Stein.

"So Milton sent you to me for a job, hey? Well, we need the right kind of girls at all times. Slip out of that cloak an' let's see how you look."

Joselyn hardened — dropped her cape to a chair. Again she was clad in one of Kittie's evening gowns. "I'm as good looking as any of those girls outside," she told herself grimly.

"You'll do," Stein decided quickly. "You know what the proposition is, I suppose? Three dances for thirty-five cents. Twenty-five cents to you an' ten to the house. Ten per cent commission on any business you bring to the tables. We got girls knockin' off better'n seventy-five dollars a week, without tips."

Tips! Spiritually, if not physically. Joselyn winched. The second man spoke up, a faint tang of the gutter in his voice.

"Mr. Stein don't mean that exactly like it sounds. Some of the girls make friends, and accept presents — slippers, stockings and so forth. We don't go into that at all —it's all up to the girl."

"I wouldn't be interested in that part of it," Joselyn told him with a shade of dignity.

"That's good—I don't blame you. I see you're a stranger in New York. You're from the south. Can tell by the accent. My names's Bates—Stephen Bates and I'm sort of a silent partner with Mr. Stein here. Suppose you tell us something about yourself, now."

Joselyn did not feel an outright dislike for the man but there was something about him that, instinctively, put her on her guard.

"If you must know," she said coldly, "I'll confess that I didn't want to take up this work but I came simply because I have to earn a lot of money in a hurry. A friend of mine—a girl—is pretty sick. She needs to go to a hospital Is that enough, sir?"

Herman Stein grunted. "All right. Report to Miss Murphy."

His partner held up a restraining, well-manicured hand. "Just a minute, please. Miss Poe, is this friend of yours bad sick?"

"I'd call it that—yes."

"What's the trouble—if you don't mind saying?"

Joselyn's eyes were steady. "Bad liquor."

Stephen Bates scowled a little, thoughtfully. "And you came to a dance hall to stake her, eh? Well, that's what I call being a good sport. Tell me a little more. Where is this girl now?"

A pang of feeling moved Joselyn sharply as she thought of Kittie alone in the rooming house. I called a doctor but he didn't do much," she said unevenly. "I did what I could—she's in a room next to mine. It's not a very good place to be sick in."

Bates thrust his hands into his pockets, grew tight about the eyes His shrewd gaze studied Joselyn's face.

"This interests me," he said slowly "Don't you realize that in a case like this that every hour is precious? What if she gets worse tonight?"

Mist gathered in Joselyn's eyes. "I—I don't know."

"I'm just a business man, Miss Poe," Stephen Bates said quietly. "Also I hope I'm a human being as well. If you're willing to take a job like that out there on the floor, I think it might be an even break if you'd deal me a hand. Now get me right—I' mwhat they call a bad boy on Broadway, but I might not sleep well tonight if I thought some poor kid's life might hingo on a couple hundred dollars of my money.. It might stick in my mind. Understand? I'd like to get in on this because I'm, well—I'm superstitious."

"Why"—— Joselyn's voice faltered. "Why—I didn't know people were so kind—in New York."

"They aint generally," Herman Stein remarked, significantly. To Bates he added: "I suppose you'll be taking her right now away from the academy? An' we're short on girls, too."

"I certainly am going to take Miss Poe away right now," Bates said crisply. "My car's downstairs. We're going to go back to where this sick girl is and get things moving. That's the way I do business, Miss Poe. I either click or I don't."

He held up her evening cape, closed it about her shoulders. The whole incident developed so swiftly that she could scarcely believe what was happening. The fact that gay little Kittie Lane in her hour of tragedy was to receive whatever human help was possible swelled Joselyn's heart until her emotion, like a tide, swept over and covered any suspicion she might have had of Stephen Bates.

As she left the little office in his company she saw, but did not comprehend, the wise sneer on the face of Herman Stein.

CHARGES THREE IN CONSPIRACY

Vrbsky Asks Damages, Claiming Lincoln Men Attempted to Defraud.

Charging a conspiracy to defraud, Jerry R. Vrbsky of Crete, filed suit in district court Friday afternoon against William H. Sutton, Jesse Nickles and D. M. Douthett, all of Lincoln, asking $15,500 damages.

Vrbsky claims that on August 2, 1923, he was persuaded by these men to trade an apartment property which he owned in Lincoln, for the Belgrade hotel, at Belgrade, Neb., which was misrepresented as to value.

The hotel was said to rent for $200 a month, paid in advance, and was valued at $22,000, Vrbsky says, whereas shortly after he took the property over he discovered its value to be no more than $6,500, and the rental to be less than stated.

The value of his apartment, the Clayton, had greatly decreased since he had bought it, Vrbsky says he was told, and that he would make a very good trade.

He was told by Douthett, Vrbsky says in his petition, that Douthett would get him a loan of $12,000 on the Belgrade hotel any time he desired it. Shortly after buying the property he endeavored to obtain this loan, but was unable to do so, he says. The property is not worth enough to carry any substantial loan, according to Vrbsky.

The renter of the property was represented to Vrbsky as a responsible person, who had been doing a good business in the hotel and desired to renew his lease at $200 a month, the petition states.

Vrbsky claims that the renter was one Knott, a son-in-law of Sutton, who was a party to the alleged conspiracy. Knott paid no rent at all, in the belief of Vrbsky. Furthermore Vrbysky alleges that the hotel had done a poor business for several years and that Sutton had not been the owner for several years, as was stated, but only about four months.

Vrbsky is 56 years old and has been a farmer most of his life. He had no knowledge of urban values and was urged by the men charged in the suit not to consult and attorney as it would be a needless expense, he says.

He asks damages to the extent of $15,500 with interest at 7 per cent since August 2, 1923.

SNAKE BITE FATAL.

IRELANDS SAY NOT AT FAULT

Deny Responsibility For Auto Accident In Which Schultz Hurt.

Replying to a suit filed against them in District court by Henry J. Deltemeyer for Herman Schultz, a minor, asking damages to the extent of $21,000 as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on the Crete road last November 29, Rolland E. Ireland, and Jessie C. Ireland deny the charges that the latter was operating her car in a reckless manner or was in any way responsible for the accident. They ask that the suit be dismissed.

Fined For Using Shotgun in City; Pleads Own Case

Judge Chappell found Hartford Reid, 2043 North Thirtieth street, guilty of shooting firearms within the city limits at his hearing Saturday and fined him $1 and costs.

Reid, who had pleaded not guilty, argued his own case before Judge Chappell, cross-examining witnesses and putting one witness of his own on the stand. He argued that he was justified in discharging the shotgun which killed a neighbor's dog, because, he said, the animal was about to attack his small daughter.

Judge Chappell ruled that he was not exonerated from the charge.

Mrs. Edna Whitmer, 2104 North Twenty-ninth street, testified that some of the shot from the gun entered her car, and that one grazed her husband's elbow. Mrs. Flora Conklin, 2006 North Thirtieth street, the owner of the dog which was killed, also testified.

Reid's wife and the defendant told Judge Chappell their daughter had been chased by the dog several times, and that the third time, when the dog rushed at her, Mr. Reid fired the gun.

The defendant gave notice of appeal but later changed his mind and paid the fine.

Woman To Wear Masculine Garb On Trip To Face Wyoming Charge

Sheriff George Lord of Sheridan Wyo. is in Lincoln to return Miss N. Z. Garess, whose masquerading as a husband and marriage to Muriel Primeau was discovered here Wednesday, to Wyoming. She will be charged with passing a no-fund check for $65, Sheriff Lord said.

Miss Garess will take the trip as a man, it was said. Her feminine attire is being held with her baggage by the Lincoln hotel in place of payment of a bill of $45. The gray suit and masculine clothing she wore when arrested will be her traveling apparel.

Sheriff Lord and his prisoner leave at 6:30, on the Burlington.

Tales by Miss Garess while she was posing as Miss Primeau's husband have come to light under questioning by Captain Anderson. Among other things it was revealed that the "hubby" had told her "mother-in-law" that she or he, had been married before, and that she now had two sons by the former marriage.

The vacancies were left by two college men and eleven non-college men.

DES MOINES—(AP)—Through a consideration of "1 cent, disgust and indignation," the city of Des Moines became owner of five lots in a sub-division Friday when Harriet H. Maynard of Essex county, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hume, Des Moines, filed a quit claim deed to the property in favor of the city. The instruction gave the reason for the "indignation and disgust" as the unpaid taxes and special assessments for 1925, which were $3,469.85 while the assessed valuation of the property was $1,610.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate and house Friday appointed committees to go to New York to welcome Com. Richard Byrd, the first to reach the North pole by airplane, when he returns to New York. Most of the crop marketed through the association is sold to importers abroad.

PARIS—(AP)—Minister of Justice Laval has ordered disciplinary measures against the signers of propaganda of the Alaskan "heimatisbund"—homeland league—an organization which is autonomist in its tendencies. The municipal authorities involved in the league's propaganda already have been relieved of their functions.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Dun's today said;

"The unevenness of business trends has not appreciably lessened, though some of the favorable elements stand out more prominently. In the main, greater confidence in future conditions appears to have developed and certain of the current statistics indicates make very satisfactory comparisons. Despite lower commodity prices, bank clearings outside of New York substantially exceeded those of a year ago, while railroad freight traffic continues to be wholly without precedent for this period. This demonstartes that distribution or merchandise remains notably large, notwithstanding the retarding effects of an unusually backward spring; indifferent sections and some unemployment of workers that has resulted from a curtailment of manufacturing activity. The latter phase partly reflects seasonal influences, yet it is significant that the rate of output in the steel industry holds at a relatively high level and that the total of new orders is gaining."

Weekly bank clearings $8,608,293,000.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 12.

The forward movement in industrial stocks gained further momentum in the short session of the market today. Standard industrial stocks which provided the strong leadership for the market in the previous sessions of the week moved up to higher price levels under strong and active buying. General Motors advancing a point in the first half hour, Woolworth 3¼ and Pan American Petroleum 1¾.

Both the weekly business reports and the technical conditions of the market favored the strong and active market which prevailed in this period.

Thus far the sharp upward movements have been confined to the market leaders, but the persistence of their rallies from the low price levels has gradually attracted outside buying to other sections of the market, the oils being the latest to join he upward procession.

Unmistakable evidence of the healthy condition of business has been presented in the form of record breaking freight traffic, large earnings for corporations, abundance of money, and still more emphatic, a flood of extra cash and stock dividends for stockholders.

These factors pointed to the necessity of a revision of the general sentiment of the speculative district, which has been looking on the dark side since the first part of March.

Railroad stocks reached a slightly higher range of prices today, under the lead of New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio, the former selling above 131. Prospects of a higher dividend for Baltimore and Ohio has considerably brightened with the steady increase in net earnings this year. Southern railway, southern pacific and Atchison commanded higher prices.

Buying demand was urgent for United States Steel, General Motors, the Mercantile stocks, the low-priced motors and a few of the oils. Atlantic refining at 120 represented a recovery of 5 points from the low of the week; Texas company spurted to 64¼, Pan American B sold up about 1¾, while Pan Handle producing continued its spectacular rise to 23⅜, up 3 points for the day and nearly 20 points from its low of 4½.

American Woolen common and preferred staged a brisk rally, the common selling up 2½ points at 22⅝ and the preferred up 3. Allied Chemical, American Can and Dupont made a strong and active trio and reached the highest prices on the movement in unusually active trading. Baldwin sold at 110¼ for a new high on the movement.

General Motors and United States Steel continued to lead the market into Higher levels in the final period. Bullish demonstrations were also staged in a number of the railroad, oil and specialty stocks and the market closed strong in all departments.

Strength and activity of the railroad bonds was the feature of the listed bond market today. Liberty bonds and foreign issues were inactive, but steady. French 7½s selling at 97½, Japanese 4s at 88¼; Rhine Westphalian, 7s at 98. Liberty third 4¼s sold at 101.13 and Liberty fourth 4¼s at 104.7.

Active trading continued in the income and adjustment bonds of the Frisco, Katy, seaboard air line and international Great Northern systems. Chicago and East Illinois general 6s were in demand at 79½; Chicago Great Western 4s at 69¾; Katy adjustment 5s at 93¾; Frisco prior lien 4s at 54½.

Brooklyn Union Gas 5s led the advance in the utility stocks and sold at a new high to 146. Dodge Brothers 6s were in demand at 94¼ and International Tel. aand Tel. 5s at 100¼.

Higher prices ruled in stock market at the opening today. United Steel advanced ½ to a new high for the movement at 134½; United States Rubber was up a point at 59½; General Motors up 6@136¾, Hudson Motors up 6@64¾, American Can up ⅜@49¾; New York central up ⅝@133; New Haven up ⅛@44½; Pan American Petroleum B up ⅞@72¾.

Grain Notes

CHICAGO, June 12.—(AP)—Pessimistic reports came to the pit about crop conditions in Europe. Germany and France claim a decline in probable yields, with wheat and rye particularly bad in Germany, and increased export business is looked for.

The government's detailed report confirms the severity of the drought in northwestern Kansas. The first car of new wheat reached Kansas City, the earliest such arrival since 1901.

Reports that oats progress in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska areas is disappointing helped boom the oats market.

Most of the spring wheat territory needs moisture. A big elevator company finds weather conditions unfavorable for the crop in the last week.

Yesterday's rains over the midwest and the northwest did not have the expected depressing effect on the wheat market. It decline donly ⅝ to ¾c from the previous close.

Strength in other grains influenced corn as did reports of good rains in Iowa and Illinois and prices rallied.

Rain in the Dakotas was relatively limited, only six of fourteen North Dakota points reporting any fall and only three South Dakota points having half an inch or more.

A CORRUPTION TALE UNFOLDED TO COMMITTEE

the committee announced that subpoenas had been issued for Vernon Taylor of Indiana county, Pennsylvania, and Thomas F. Watson of Philadelphia. Taylor was called to tell about Pepper expenditures in western Pennsylvania, while Watson was chairman of the Republican Citizens' committee of Philadelphia and state treasurer of the Vare campaign.

Glendening returned to Philadelphia on May 13, he added and then he helped raise more money.

"I found it very difficult to raise any at that late day," he said. He was then excused.

I. Henry Walnut, chairman of Pinchot's Philadelphia committee, told of conducting the governor's campaign in that city. He said the disbursements were $25,971.59 for the headquarters hire of speakers and watchers at the polls. The largest single item of expense, he said, was $7,200 for watchers. In one ward, the forty-second, he added, $1,057 was spent on watchers.

Walnut Files Statement.

Walnut filed a statement setting forth these financial details and it showed that the committee had $4,-192,35 in the bank now—an apparent surplus—and $33.07 "cash on hand."

Walnut said Pinchot had paid only 408 watchers in Philadelphia, as compared to the 9,000 watchers employed by the Pepper forces.

"We had 1,600 watchers certificates issued but we only paid 408," said Walnut. "We paid them through the ward leaders who had to bring back the certificates as receipts for their payments."

"Did any leaders turn back any money"

"Yes, to our surprise, they did," said Walnut. "That is why our accounts show a balance of $4,-192."

Walnut said that only "between $400 and $500" was raised by Pinchot's Philadelphia committee to help finance his campaign.

"There was no effort made to collect any money," Walnut declared. "We made no appeals. We got all the money we needed from the Pinchot state committee and we made only reasonable expenditures."

Walnut told the committee of alleged electoral corruption in Philadelphia.

"Honest Count" Big Problem.

Walnut said the principal obstacle to clean government in Philadelphia was to get an "honest count." Under the existing conditions, he said, it was impossible to get it.

Last year the witness said, a Municipal court judge, named Renshaw, ran on a platform; to clean up the political machine.

"In seventy-one divisions he didn't get single vote," Walnut added. "In these seventy-one divisions, one candidate got 18,360 votes, the second got 18,858, and and Renshaw none. Hundreds of people in these divisions later told Renshaw they had voted for him.

"Didn't you get a recount in these divisions?"

"No, there was no use," said Walnut. "Why in Renshaw's own district, he was given only 11 votes. He talked to his friends and found that twenty-one of his neighbors had voted for him so he demanded a recount. The recount showed he had received 115 votes in the division instead of the 11 the machine allowed him."

Husker Comet Shows Heels to Rivals on Cinders

Locke Outruns His Field In Collegiate Prelims

Fleet Nebraskan First to Tape In Tryouts for Saturday's Finals; Wyatt Also Qualifies In the 440-yard Dash; Time Efforts Slowed Down When Cinder Path Drenched by Rain.

CHICAGO, June 12.—(A. P.)—Unfavorable track conditions minimized likelihood of many outstanding performances as collegiate athletes faced the barrier today in the finals of the national intercollegiate athletic association games.

Interest centered on Roland Locke, Nebraska comet, and his effort to establish world records in the sprints. His outstanding challenger was Fred Alderman of Michigan State college, who set a meet record of 21.7 for the 220-yard event in yesterday's preliminaries after Locke had traveled the distance under wraps in 21.8 to tie the meet record, held by Paulu of Grinnell.

Field Prelims Postponed.

Locke was clocked in 9.5 seconds for the 100-yard dash at the Drake relays on a track resembling that of today's games.

Rain soaked the cinders and made running difficult, and the field was so saturated that preliminaries were abandoned in the field events.

Running against a stiff wind, Locke traveled 100 yards yesterday in 10.3 to qualify easily, winning his heat, as he did in the 220, by stepping ahead of Sharkey of Miami at the finish.

The University of Southern California entered today's events a favorite for team honors, with six qualifiers in the running events and a field brigade led by Houser, weight ace. Illinois and Michigan each qualified four runners.

Guthrie Fastest in Hurdles.

Guthrie of Ohio State led the high hurdlers at 11.52 seconds and Spence of Detroit City college headed the low barrier field in the preliminaries with a 24.1 seconds performance.

Oestrich of Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minn., furnished a surprise with his victory in his 440-yard dash heat in 50.6 seconds, which was equalled by Rooney of Kansas in his heat of the same event. Wyatt of Nebraska qualified for the 440 finals.

Charteris of Washington, winner of the 880-yard dash last year, led the qualifiers in his event today. His time in Friday's prelims was 1:58.8.

Fifteen track and field events are on today's program.

Helen Permitted To Quit Hospital

PARIS, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—Helen Wills, American tennis star, was "at home" this morning. She returned to the Hotel Cecilia, which is her home in Paris, last evening.

"We were all surprised," Mrs. Wills, Helen's mother, said, "when the doctor, after examining her, said she could leave at once."

The tennis star was slightly tired this morning, but otherwise in fine physical condition.

SUZANNE STILL QUEEN OF TENNIS

French Girl Takes Measure Of American Opponent In Straight Sets.

BY FREDERICK K. ABBOTT.

PARIS, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—Suzanne, the indomitable, hung up another victory today.

The flashing French star, playing in a heavy rain under most unfavorable conditions, defeated Miss Mary K. Browne of California in the finals of the International hard courts championship, 6-1, 6-0.

The American girl made a game fight, but was clearly outclassed.

Miss Browne made a brave start and for a time it looked as though she would give the Pavlowa of the courts, who was doing no ballet work at all, something of a fright.

Deployed to Back Court.

After the first four games, however, Mlle. Lenglen appeared to know just how far she could go and what her opponent's tactics were to be. The French girl then went into the back courts and began her intensive offensive. She opened her smashing placements and kept them up and from that time onward it was evident that the American was in for a defeat, for she was running from one end of the court to the other while the ever graceful Suzanne placed shot after shot out of reach.

Suzanne, the alert, was caught off her toes on three occasions during the first set, however. The French girl was in the back courts and Miss Browne dropped cut shots over the net, which she was unable to reach. After she had lost three points on these deceptive shots from the American's racquet, she began to check them and returned them.

Yank Girl Showed Courage.

Though defeated, none can say that the American showed any lack of courage. She was in the fight until the very end. When Suzanne had five games to her credit at the end of the second set, Miss Browne, as she changed courts, shook her head rather sadly, then gritted her teeth and proceeded to carry the final game to deuce four times before she lost it. It was a valiant attempt at a last minute rally.

When the match had finished, the Californian walked off the courts alone and headed for the club-house.

"It was Suzanne's day. She played a wonderful game," said Miss Browne as she walked across the lawns.

French Girl far Superior.

Miss Browne's explanation of Suzanne's victory is the only one that it is possible to offer. The French girl was far superior to her opponent, and even though she had to hold herself in due to the heavy, wet courts, there was no denying that she was quicker to think and quicker to act than Miss Browne, who made a gallant effort but to no avail against the clever strategy and the perfect placements of Suzanne.

Once or twice during the match it appeared that Miss Browne might secure an advantage with her drop cut shots over the net, but Suzanne shifted her tactics and again resorted to placements which sent Miss Browne running into the back courts, only to be drawn to the net and then the French girl's drives went whizzing past her for points.

The sun, which has absented itself during most of the match, came out and smiled on the French girl's victory.

Victim of Bad Decision.

Though Miss Browne succeeded in taking but one game from Suzanne, it is the conscensus in the press box that the American was the victim of a bad decision in the third game of the second set, when the umpire credited the French girl with a game.

Earlier in the match Miss Browne had displayed a fine sporting trait when she herself protested a decision against Mlle. Lenglen and refused to take the point which the linesman had awarded her.

"It wasn't the wet court or the heavy ball that did it," said Miss Browne, as she shook the hand of Mlle. Langlen across the net at the end of the match.

"She was just too good for me, that is the only explanation I have to offer," she added as she turned to the reporters who had grouped about.

The Match Scores.

| | | | | | | | | |

Lincoln Battler Cops Verdict In Third City Ring

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 12.—Check Fullmer, welterweight youngster from Lincoln, tought his first glove fight away from home last night in the four-round curtain-raiser of the Elks program and came through with colors flying. Fullmer stacked up against Young Loftus, North Platte welter, and had the western Nebraska boy backing away in every round. The Lincoln battler had his man groggy and up against the ropes in the third, but Loftus managed to cover up and escape a knock-out punch. The referee's verdict in Fullmer's favor was cheered by the crowd.

George Manley, Denver, knocked out Howard Mason, Milwaukee, in the second round of the main event.

Felix Byrne of Phillip, S. D., and Frank Guzman, Omaha, welterweights, fought eight rounds to a draw in the semi-windup.

Mickey Durane, Detroit, won a decision over "Red" Siders, Fremont, in six rounds. Frank Oliverius, West Point, won a decision over Andy "Tug" Wilson, entral City. It was the most interesting card staged here in some time.

Touching the Bases.

The Cubs snapped the winning streak of the Braves at eight straight, pounding out a 7 to 6 victory. The winning run rode home on a single by Stephenson, formerly of Cleveland.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn used five pitchers each and so many other players that the boxscore resembled a telephone directory. The Reds got the verdict in the eleventh inning, 8 to 6, and now lead the Pirates by two full games.

Thirty-four hits made in slow-town as the demon Phils, falling on Pittsburgh's crippled pitching staff, won another slugfest, 13 to 11. Wrightstone, with a homer, a triple and two doubles, accounted for nine runs.

The Cardinals hauled the corpses of the Giants out of the morgue and executed them for the third straight time, 19 o 2, with Victor Keen directing the firing. The Red Birds are only three games away from first place.

Ty Cobb picked a tough spot for Wilbur Cooper's first appearance in the American league and the veteran lasted but four innings against the Yanks, who won, 9 to 3, and swept the series.

Gaston got the verdict over Ehmke as the Browns smeared the Red Sox, 4 to 3, on a single by McManus with the bases full in the tenth.

CHANTING DIRGE OVER CHAMPION

Walsh Foresees Defeat Of Berlenbach In Combat With Delaney.

Fight Critic Asserts Strib Stood Flat-Footed and Deserved to Lose.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(I. N. S.)—While the band wagon still is blaring its way up and down Broadway over Paul Berlenbach's defense of his title against Young Stribling, the writer today feels the urge to climb into the front seat and play a very sour calliope. It is my conviction that Paul Berlenbach, as light-heavyweight champion of the world, is not long for this life, so to speak.

He is signed and sealed to lay his title on the line again next month with Jack Delaney and my hunch is that he may be delivered on a stretcher.

Delaney Dangerous.

Eulogies were cast all over the premises when Paul took the decision the other night and the writer was in there casting with the best of them. Berlenbach is a great champion, as champions go these days, and he proved it.

But I believe that he has slipped back from the form he knew a year ago and that, if Stribling had been a better contender, Berlenbach might have proved that, too. He can't slip an inch and hope to beat Delaney.

Paul's Methods Simple.

Berlenbach, of course, never was fast, fancy or fastidious about his methods. His system was and is simple. He goes to his man, shifts and hooks a left, hand, either to the head or body, mostly the latter. Having landed, he keeps the punch going until the referee breaks him away. This performance is repeated indefinitely and without much variation.

It was good enough against Stribling, but I am inclined to wonder whether it would have been so effective if the Georgian had kept moving around his man. He made no use of his footwork after the third round; in fact, he sought to get in close with Berlenbach at every opportunity—a form of mild dementia. It helped to make the champion's task that much easier and it was easy enough, in truth.

Stribling Flat-Footed.

What completed Stribling's ruin was his stationary defense when Berlenbach was feinting him with the shift. The challenger apparently had been so thoroughly imbured with respect for Paul's punch that he could think of nothing better than covering up. Apparently, it didn't occur to him to try to take the play away from the champion by feinting himself. He stood on his flat feet and covered. In consequence, all Paul had to do was to step in, pick his spot and hit. Most of his punches landed on Stribling's arms, perforce, but they almost paralyzed those members and left the Georgian's attack, if any, useless.

Not Much In His Right.

I think the fight proved that Berlenbach is hitting just as accurately and as hard as ever. I do not think he is hitting as fast. His shift seemed slow and if Stribling had been awake to his opportunities, he might have watched Berlenbach's right leg and conducted himself accordingly. The feint, of course, is without significance. Berlenbach occasionally hits with his right, but it doesn't mean anything in particular.

With a strangely stationary target, th eman looked good. Will Delaney be a stationary target? Not unless they put him in a straight jacket.

Finalists Square Off on Omaha Links

OMAHA, June 12.—(AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City will attempt to win her second consecutive Missouri Valley golf crown when she meets Mrs. Russell Fowles, North Platte, Neb., in the finals of the annual Missouri Valley women's golf tournament over the Omaha Field club course today.

The match will be over 18 holes. Comparison of their play in the three championship rounds indicates a close contest, although Mrs. Hill ruled a slight favorite. Both won their way to the finals over a brilliant field of middlewestern stars and both are seasoned tournament players.

Mrs. Hill, who also won medalist honors in this tourney, has won many new followers by her belated Comebacks on the tricky Field club greens. She showed her best form in the previous matches, although she was poor on the greens. During the last two rounds, however, she attained an accuracy. Mrs. Fowles will have some advantage in her intimate knowledge of the course, which she has played many times.

Finals in other rounds also will be played today, including the consolation play between Mrs. C. N. Johnson, Fremont, Neb., and Mrs. Pennington Bruce, Kansas City.

BY ROBERT HARLOW

MOORE PARK, Eng., June 12.—(INS)—Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen today defeated Cyril Tolley and Abe Mitchell, four up and two to go, in an eighteen-hole professional and amateur match.

Both Hagen and Jones were playing superior golf and their teamwork was excellent.

While Mitchell was carrying most of the load for the English team, the Americans were playing perfectly together and their drives and approaches were excellent, as was evidence by a fine parade of threes The cards:

LINKS PERK UP; SCALP REDSKINS

Zwilling's Gang On Rampage With Bat; Pound Ball For 17 Blows.

Duffy, New Pitcher, Goes On Mound; Links Win By 15 to 9 Score.

OKALHOMA CITY, June 12.—The haughty Indians, after eight successive victories over the lowly Links, are nursing wounded pride today. The Links reared up on their hind legs yesterday and trouneed the Redskins, 15 to 9, unleashing a swatting attack which netted 17 safe blows. Blenkiron and Mills did the heavies for the Zwilling crew, each pestling three hits, while Purdy, Gottleber, Haley and Manager Zwilling each came through with two.

Lefty Carson's forkside benders were easy plucking, the Links sending him on the way out in five innings, while Lyons and then Roberts tried their skill, but without results. It was a holiday for the Links, who were up on their toes and knocking in markers whenever a runner got on the paths.

Duffy, California youngster who tried out with St. Joseph this spring, was on the slab for Lincoln and didn't display anything calculated to astonish the natives, but the Links were in a savage mood, knocking is so many runs that Duffy didn't need to do his best twirling.

The defeat dropped the Indians out of first place, Des Moines regaining the league lead by toppling the Tulsa Oilers. The score:

Yankees Hammer Out 18 Hits To Trounce Tigers

DETROIT, June 12.—(AP)—Wilbur Cooper, former Cub southpaw, got a warm reception in his first start as a Tiger yesterday, being found for ten hits in the four innings he worked, and New York made it four straight for the series. The score was 9 to 3. Neither Holloway nor Stoner, who succeeded Cooper, could hold the slugging Yankees, who garnered 18 hits. Ruth's batting average dropped slightly, the Babe making only one hit in five trips. He walked twice.

Jess Sweetser Sick Man When He Won British Title

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Jess Sweetser, first American born to bring back the British amateur golf championship, has paid dearly, for today he lies in a hospital at Bronxville, N. Y., recuperating from an illness that attacked him when he sailed across the Atlantic on his quest.

And the great American event, the national amateur at Baltusrol in September, when it had been predicted Jess would meet the two-year king Bobby Jones, in an "international" contest that would decide the world amateur championship, will be without him. So will the national open at the Scioto country club, Columbus, next month.

Must Take to Hospital.

A long rest, after influenza and nervous strain, has been ordered by his physician, Dr. B. M. Dear, who says Sweetser soon will be fully recovered, but must not tax himself again this year in championship play. The champion will undergo a complete examination immediately and perhaps will remain at the hospital for some time.

Few in America and for that matter, few in Britain, knew what Sweetser suffered to win the coveted crown at Muirfield. Before the amateur tournament started he had suffered seriously from a cold while crossing the Atlantic and the two weeks of heavy weather in London was far from beneficial.

Carried From Course.

Members of the golfing party with which he returned on the Aquitania yesterday told how he collapsed after a practice round at Muirfield on the eve of the title play and was carried from the course by big Jess Guilford, a Walker cup candidate from Boston. Only the withdrawal of his opponent the next day saved him then, they said.

He went into the final clash against Alexander Simpson on grit alone, according to Francis Ouimet of Boston, who described the match as one of the most remarkable demonstrations he ever had seen, with the beaten Scots lifting the American to their shoulders at the end.

Then came St. Andrews and the Walker cup play with the former college and open champion of American refusing to lay down arms. And then the journey home to the United States with doctors in attendance almost constantly.

McGraw Calls For Curves In Crisis of Game

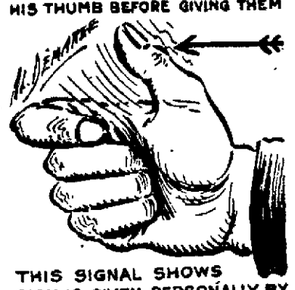
-THE SECOND SIGN GIVEN, COUNTS -ONE FINGER IS FAST BALL,-TWO FINGERS CURVE,-THREE, WASTE BALL PITCHER CAN SHAKE OFF THESE SIGNS UNLESS CATCHER SNAPS HIS THUMB BEFORE GIVING THEM



THIS SIGNAL SHOWS SIGN IS GIVEN PERSONALLY BY McGRAW, AND CANNOT BE CHANGED

Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants usually flashes to his catcher whether he wishes a fast or curve ball to be thrown by his pitcher to the opposing hitter in a pinch. He does this through some other player sitting on the Giant bench, because the eyes of the opposing club are on the New York leader.

The pitcher can shake off the average sign the catcher flashes him if the sign does not come from McGraw direct; but if the catcher snaps his thumb before giving the combination sign, the pitcher knows it comes direct from headquarters and must be obeyed.

McGraw is a great believer in using a curve ball in a pinch and among opposing clubs he is referred to jokingbly, as "the best curve ball pitcher on the Giant club."

Des Moines Wins Rubber of Series From Tulsa Club

TULSA, June 12. — The Oilers had the edge on the Demons in the hitting yesterday, but failed to get their blows in clusters and bungled in their fielding often enough to drop the odd game of the series to Des Moines. The score was 8 to 6. Manager Collins of Des Moines crashed two homers, while Wetzel, Sturdy and Lewis also connected with circuit drives. The score:

Boss Larry Buys Players; Other Deals In the Brew

Pitcher Stueland and Catcher Clark Added to Team Roster via Purchase Route; Arrangement Made Involving Buy of Slugging Outfielder From the Salina Club of Southwestern League.

BY "CY" SHERMAN.

The Links are far down in the race for the Western league bunting and may tumble even lower before a general shake-up can be accomplished, but there is no intention on the part of Larry Arnold, owner of the Lincoln club, to quit trying for a winner. Boss Larry came to Lincoln Saturday and immediately went to bat with the announcement that three new ball players had been acquired this week, two of them by purchase, and that deals are pending involving additional buys.

New Pitcher and Catcher.

The players coming to the Links by purchase are Pitcher George Stueland late of the Columbus club in the American association and Catcher Keith Clark of the Salina club of the Southwestern league. Stueland is to join the Links in Tulsa. Veltman, acquired on option from the Chicago White Sox, also will show up during the series between the Links and the Oilers. Clark will report to Manager Zwilling early next week, arriving in Lincoln in time for the series with Wichita beginning July 16.

Acquisition of Catcher Clark comes at a
